Central Texas Associated Builders and Contractors Chapter Honors White Construction Company with Highest Honor

AUSTIN, Tex.—White Construction Company was recognized by the Associated Builders and Contractors, Central Texas Chapter, for ‘Excellence in Construction’ in the Commercial ($10-$25 million) category at the October 16 ceremony.

The ‘Excellence in Construction’ award, otherwise known as the ‘Eagle Award’ was awarded in the Commercial category for the Texas Automobile Dealers Association Office Building. For more than 30 years, TADA was located at its present location, 12th and Lavaca, but White Construction Company demolished the tired 17,000 square-foot building, making room for its new headquarters. The 150,000 square-foot office building contains 70,000 square-feet of office space, situated above a four-story parking garage. The building features a 12,000 square-foot terrace, atop the seventh floor which overlooks the Capitol grounds and the neighboring Texas Hill Country.

The ‘Excellence in Construction’ award is an annual chapter award by the Central Texas Associated Builders and Contractors. The chapter awards ceremony was held at the DoubleTree Hotel in Austin on Thursday, October 16.
